It has been said that to exist is to change, to change is to mature and to mature is to go on creating oneself endlessly. Though methodology changes the core mission of an organization such as Petersburg Home for Ladies carries on undaunted. As we look towards the year ahead, we find ourselves not only approaching the threshold of the new year's celebration but also entering into a new leadership regime. In November 2021 Petersburg Home for Ladies enthusiastically welcomed Jessica Hancock as the Administrator of Record for the Ladies' Home. With over a decade's worth of healthcare administrative work within the Tri-Cities, and with instant rapport both with residents and staff alike, Mrs. Hancock has created astounding momentum toward large visionary goals in the short time she has been serving our community. We are privileged to have such a fine leader at the helm as we turn the corner into a new year and a new chapter in the history of Petersburg Home for Ladies.

Our "Ladies' Home" Journal

Among the many traditions of the Ladies Home, the Tree of Memoriam may be the most spiritually significant. To remember means not that one has forgotten, but rather that for a moment one chooses to place a memory in the forefront of thought. This year we welcome Reverend Ayers of Crater Community Hospice as our keynote speaker. It is a privilege to share such a significant moment of connectivity to the human spirit with those who share an inherent regard for the memory of those gone before us.

Happy Veterans' Day.

As savory apple dishes turn into spiced pumpkin treats, and the scent of nutmeg fades into the smell of fresh baked gingerbread, we are reminded that the holiday season is like the winter itself in that it is a time of respite and repose. The truly valuable aspects of life abound in the traditions we cherish and the laughter we share. From daintily seasoned turkey breast and salted southern ham to fine Christmas cocktails and delectable peppermint delights, the celebration of the season is fully under way.

The story of Petersburg Home for Ladies is much like the story of Christmas. Humble beginnings, partnered with opportunity and determination, create something far greater than any one person can truly comprehend. The legacy of the Petersburg Home for Ladies is particularly reflected throughout our building during the Christmas season in the décor chosen to represent both the traditions of the Home and the contemporary ideals which lay the groundwork for our future.

When walking our halls you will discover reds, golds, greens and silvers while being embraced by myriads of poinsettias. Tradition is found woven within the angels, stars, bows and ribbons which grace our various Christmas features. Spectacularly lit reindeer quietly watch over our courtyard areas while birds, berries and other such colloquial what-nots are found poised upon the branches of our Christmas trees.
