Our "Ladies' Home" Journal

Elegant Living with Exceptional Care

Friends and families gathered together as smoke billowed from festive bonfires while the scent of apple cider and freshly spun cotton candy wafted through the air. Decorated with traditional pumpkins, hay bales and complete with Indian corn, our fall festival was a truly memorable occasion. Special visitors from The Teeny Tiny Farm made our time together extra special.

Shirley Vineyards ranks highly among the scenic destinations within our local region. Perched above the James River and lavished both in history and beauty, our ladies experienced an afternoon outing like none other.

The Virginia Aquarium is a wonderful experience... for "kids" of any age!

Birthday celebrations warm the soul, as do scrumptious cupcakes! Happy Birthday to our November and December Birthday Ladies!

Santa knows how to get down a chimney, but it never hurts to have a few firemen around to join in the festivities! Our Grand Illumination was as memorable as always with singing, musical performances and even special hot chocolate treats from At Home Care.

We Remember

Petersburg Home for Ladies Memorial Tree

As you visit with us throughout the Christmas season take time to engage with our Memorial Tree, located in our Wellness Center on Jefferson Hall. This tree is intentionally left unfinished so families and loved ones can participate in the decorating process throughout the month of December. Write in our memory book and make this part of your annual traditions as you visit the Home.

To remember does not mean that we have forgotten, but rather that for a moment in time we chose to place a memory in the forefront of our thoughts, engaging with our emotions, and creating beauty around it.

In our mission to be an agent of blessing to all whom we touch, we treasure the opportunity to honor our veterans. This year, on Veterans Day, Crater Community Hospice supported our efforts through a pinning ceremony and quilt presentation.

From savory seafood to delectable desserts, our dining services team skillfully showcased their craft during the annual Christmas Open House.

It was truly the most wonderful time of the year as friends and family gathered for the annual Christmas gala. The smell of spiced drinks, and the sound of laughter filled the halls and courtyards, ushering in a season of joyous cheer.
